

Improving Connections: A Global Festival Project

Every year, most children at Woodside send cards for Christmas, Easter, and Valentine's Day to friends in our partner schools that also celebrate these special days. This project is a wonderful chance for them to share joy and connect with others. We make the project even better by having video calls, sending greetings, and learning new words in different languages, which are exciting and fun! These activities allow us to truly feel part of a larger community.

One of our main goals is to help the children to see things from other people's experiences. Everyone has their own stories and feelings, which are shaped by their backgrounds. By understanding these different views, we can appreciate what makes each person unique.

Connect with Others

Another important aim is to help us meet students from other countries. This experience can help us build friendships, even if they are far away. By communicating and sharing experiences with others, the children will learn to appreciate different cultures and traditions that may be very different from their own.

Learn About Traditions

In this project, the children have the chance to learn how children in different countries celebrate Christmas, Easter, and Valentine's Day. Each culture has its own customs and ways of celebrating, and this can be fascinating to explore. Children discover new foods, music, and activities that are part of these special occasions.

As part of this project, children expand their vocabulary by learning new words in different languages. This is a great way to communicate with their new friends and to understand what they share with them. Learning a new language can also be useful in your future, as it opens the door to more opportunities.

Make New Friends

Lastly, this project gives the children chance to make friends from around the world. Building friendships with people from different places can broaden their perspective and enrich their life. Children create special memories together through this unique experience.
